

EPS Answers Your Packaging Needs

Expanded polystyrene (EPS) is one of the lightest packaging materials in existence, yet its superior strength provides for exceptional compressive value.

Tri State Foam has been a leader in the EPS packaging industry since our formation in 1983. We offer effective packaging solutions through engineering excellence and a commitment to both our customers and the environment.

Industries as diverse as consumer electronics, cosmetics, furniture, medical supply and telecommunications, among others, have benefited from our outstanding products and services.
